March 28, 2010 Palm Sunday

Readings during the current liturgical year are those for Year C

Luke 19:28-40 • Isaiah 50:4-7 • Psalm 22:8-9, 17-20, 23-24 • Philippians 2:6-11 •
Luke 22:14—23:56

There once was a fishing village where the custom was to kill adulteresses by dumping them into the sea from a cliff. One day, there was an adulteress who the villagers planned to kill in the traditional way. It was customary for the accused woman to meet her husband one last time before being executed, but on this occasion the husband did not appear for this last meeting. So the villagers executed the sentence all the same. The next day, there was this astonishing scene: the husband appeared together with his wife in the village. The two were in good shape – how did this come to be? Well, the man had knotted a net, a kind of “net of love”, beneath the cliff so as to save his wife. (Based on Werner Bergengruen's story.)

Jesus does not follow the cruel law either. The young church in the first century was rigid. And the Christians of that time did probably have the same problems with the mildness and the mercifulness of Jesus as the Pharisees. Jesus came to heal – and one certainly does not heal by excluding, by excommunicating, but by accompanying, by being present especially in times of personal crises.

OUR COMMUNITY: The All Saints Catholic Community is based on the principle that we, the Community, willingly take on all the responsibilities of running our own Community and supporting our Celebrants. The All Saints Coordinators, whose contact telephone numbers are shown overleaf, guide groups of volunteers in meeting our needs and those of our Celebrants. Please volunteer to help that group to which you feel you can most contribute. Contact the All Saints Coordinator responsible for the group.
