Life as cult, culture, and cultivation - what's still unfinished in my life?

I have decided to stand up and open my eyes.

I have decided to eat and drink in moderation, to sleep as necessary, to write only what contributes toward improving those who read me, to abstain from greed, and never compare myself to others.

I have also decided to water my plants and care for an animal.

I will visit the sick, I will converse with the lonely, and I will not let much time go by before playing with a child.

In the same manner I have decided to recite my prayers every day, to bow several times before the things I consider sacred, to celebrate the Eucharist, to listen to the Word, to break bread and share the wine, to give peace, to sing in unison.

And to go for walks, which I find essential.

And to light the fire, which is also essential.

And to shop without hurry, to greet my neighbors even when I do not like seeing their faces, to subscribe to a newspaper, to regularly call my friends and siblings on the phone.

And to take excursions, swim in the sea at least once a year, and to read only good books, or reread those that I have liked....

I will live for those things according to an ethics of attention and care.

And this is how I will arrive at a happy old age, when I will contemplate, humble and proud at the same time, the small but grand orchard that I have cultivated.

Life as cult, culture, and cultivation.
